

Working Lab: Manager Approval Summary

Three months of applied analytical review for work the participant already owns.

What the employee receives

- 3 months of access to the continuous Working Lab.
- Two live 75-minute sessions each week, except announced vacation and holiday weeks.
- Each session: 15 minutes of focused teaching plus 60 minutes of rapid review of real participant work.
- Participants bring forecasts, dashboards, recommendations, analyses, and AI-assisted answers already on their desk.
- The Lab is capped at 30 active participants so the live review room remains workable.

Why this is work-related training

- The objective is faster progress through analytical roadblocks, stronger verification, clearer communication, and better-supported decisions.
- The participant remains responsible for the work and judgment. The Lab does not replace internal ownership with consulting execution.
- Relevant functions include Finance / FP&A, Marketing / RevOps, Operations, BI, analytics, and adjacent leadership roles.

Data and confidentiality

- Public Lab participants use sanitized, aggregated, de-identified, or structurally equivalent data when confidentiality requires it.
- Private team delivery is available when sensitive internal work requires a closed environment.

Price and purchase

- $2,450 per individual 3-month enrollment. Installment plans are split payments for one complete enrollment.
- Attend up to the first two live sessions. If the Lab is not a fit, request a refund before the third live session begins.
- For three or more seats, team options are available. Private team programs begin at $25K.

Find What Matters.

accidentalanalyst.com/working-lab/ | engage@fastdatasecrets.com